The mosquito brigade has invaded Monett this summer, as they always do during a dry season. They undoubtedly breed in the stream from the septic tank, as the town and country nearest that place are first invaded. The pests gradually extend over the country and at last account they were appearing in the country district five miles from town. During a rainy season the tank is flushed with the water from the storm sewers, washing the eggs of the insects away. In such a season no mosquitoes visit the town. Some system of treatment is necessary to take care of the sewage in such a way that mosquitoes and flies cannot breed in it. When typhoid fever was prevalent in town, the city authorities put quantities of crude oil in the sewers, which treatment was successful. It is too late to do much along this line this year, but the necessity for some action is plainly seen. Mosquitoes are known to be carriers of malaria and if Monett does not have a large number of cases this fall, it will be because other health conditions are above the average.

Cure for Dysentery

"While I was in Ashland, Kansas, a gentleman overheard me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes William Whitelaw, of Des Moines, Iowa. "He told me in detail of what it had done for his family, but more especially his daughter, who was lying at the point of death with a violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he did, and fully believes that by doing so saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results."

NEWS OF OUR SOLDIERS

Tom Baldwin Goes East

Tom Baldwin wrote an interesting letter to Joe Martin this week, which Mr. Martin kindly let us publish. He said:

"Have taken up a homestead in the wilds of Long Island. This trip so far has just been like a wonderful dream. Everyone is talking about the good time we have been having. We left Camp Dodge Monday, August 5, at 10 a. m. We came all the way with headquarters, had Pullmans and traveled like millionaires. We stopped at Battle Creek, Mich. for 45 minutes. We took the town by storm. Everybody gave us the glad hand and I guess every soldier got an automobile ride; if he didn't it was his own fault. Hats off to Battle Creek!"

"We arrived at Port Huron at 5 p. m. the same day; stayed there one hour. The Red Cross ladies were out in full force with a supply of ice cream that just kept a-coming; also lots of postcards, cigarettes and evening papers."

"We crossed over into Ontario, Canada, through the tunnel under the St. Clair river. The tunnel is about a mile long. We got a big send-off all along the Grand Trunk Line by the Canadians as the track was lined with people with hats off and waving everything from a dishrag to a flag, both Canadian and American."

"We crossed into Pennsylvania at Sayre; stayed there 45 minutes. Went in swimming in the Susquehanna river at noon. The water was fine—both clear and warm. We could stand up to our necks in water and see our feet."

"We arrived at Wilkesbarre at 4:30 p. m. It is a pretty town down among the mountains and very clean for a mining center. The Red Cross gave us ice cream and cigarettes here also and we covered the town. Had to get a helper engine out of here, as there is a fourteen-mile mountain climb. When we got to the top we were then just three miles from Wilkesbarre and could look over the valley for about twenty miles. This is a wonderful valley and lots of beautiful women—almost as many as Monett has."

"We went to bed and awoke this morning in Jersey City. Looking out the car window, we saw the Statue of Liberty out in the harbor. We marched from train to boat, which was to take us over to Long Island. When we got settled on boat we started to look around, and this is where the dream starts. U. S. army planes were flying overhead, up and down the Hudson river and out across the harbor. We saw one light out in the water and rise after awhile to sail away up in the sky until it looked like a hawk circling round. Saw a submarine chaser go tearing down the harbor, also several very small boats with mounted guns on them. Saw big barges carry twenty or more freight cars across the river, pass under the Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges and gazed up at the big buildings from the boat."

"We arrived at Long Island and were met by the Red Cross ladies again and were served with coffee and sandwiches, and then we entrained over the Long Island railroad to camp. The camp here is dotted all over with Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. buildings."

"Tom Baldwin, M. G. Co., 350th Inf., A. E. F., Camp Upton, N. Y."
